STATE PRIMARY TEACHERS MEET

Annual Session Being Held in Raleigh.

About Two Hundred Teachers In Attendance—Address by Dr. W. S. Rankin—Reception Tendered Teachers Last Evening—Hearing In Standard Oil Case Continued Until Dec. 12—Farmers' Union Wants "County Life Schools."

Raleigh, Dec. 1.—The North Carolina Primary Teachers' Association convened in annual session here this afternoon with nearly two hundred members from all parts of the state in attendance and still others on the way here. The session this afternoon was a sort of opening sermon with the invocation by President George W. Lay of St. Mary's School and the address of welcome by Superintendent F. M. Harper, of the Raleigh City Schools. There was also an address by Dr. W. S. Rankin, secretary of the State Board of Health, on health matters that pertain to the primary departments of the schools.

The visiting teachers were tonight given an extensive reception in the auditorium of the Raleigh High School. In the receiving line were State Superintendent of Public Instruction J. Y. Joyner and Mrs. Joyner, Superintendent F. M. Harper of the City Schools, and Mrs. Harper; Miss Annie Wetmore, Greensboro, president of the Association; Miss Mary Arrington, Miss Naomi Norsworthy, Columbia University; Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Royster, Miss Grace Bates, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Pearce, Prof. and Mrs. Hugh Morson, Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Terman, Prof. Z. V. Judd, Miss Edith Royster, Mrs. M. B. Terrill, Miss Minnie Redford. Assisting in the affair were Mrs. R. D. W. Connor, Miss Pattie Morel, Mrs. Chas. McKimmon and Col. Fred A. Olds. The business sessions of the association will be resumed Friday morning and continue through Saturday.

An address this afternoon that was especially interesting was on "Child Study as an aid to Discipline" by Miss Norsworthy, of Columbia University.

The hearing of the Standard Oil Co. case in which the monster corporation is charged in the Raleigh Police Justice's Court with violating the North Carolina anti-trust law through putting down prices of oil here to the end, so it is alleged, that the competition offered by the Indian Oil Co. may be run out and then the former high prices restored, was ordered continued today until December 12 and possibly to December 14 in order that counsel for the Standard may have time to prepare its defense. Furthermore, the prosecution was directed to furnish to the Standard's counsel not later than December 9 the names of the towns in the state the prices of oil in which will be used in trying to show anti-trust law violations in Raleigh through comparison of prices. James H. Pou represented the Standard Oil Co. and Walter Clark, Jr., city attorney, represented the prosecution.

A special committee from the North Carolina Farmer's Union was here today in conference with State Superintendent of Public Instruction J. Y. Joyner with a view to reaching final agreement as to just what recommendations shall be made to the General Assembly as to provision of rural agricultural schools to be known as "country life schools." The Farmers' Union committee included H. D. Edgerton, Franklin; P. H. Shaw, Duplin; R. L. Little, Pitt. The committee will report for final action to a meeting of the Farmer's Union to be held in Greensboro about December 15.

John Goodlet has just been committed to the penitentiary from Buncombe county to serve ten years for murdering his wife three years ago. He was recently captured in South Carolina. Another new convict is H. Cooper, Mitchell county, to serve two years for manslaughter.

The Asphalt Road.
Work on the High Point road, which is being treated with an asphalt covering, is progressing satisfactorily. About five and a half miles have been completed. It is reported that the more the portion of the road already treated is used the better the asphalt covering becomes. The camp will be moved from near the fair grounds to Jamestown today.

MEDICAL SOCIETY ELECTS OFFICERS

Dr. J. W. Long, of Greensboro, President—Dr. Jarboe, Secretary—Pellagra Discussed—Meeting Held In High Point.

The Guilford County Medical Association met at High Point yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The former president, Dr. Chas. W. Moseley, of Greensboro, called the meeting to order and led the discussion on Pellagra, which was the principal subject for the afternoon. Dr. E. J. Wood, of Wilmington, was the chief speaker of the evening. Papers were read also by Drs. Roberson and Dees, of Greensboro.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Dr. J. W. Long, of Greensboro, president; Dr. Chas. Roberson, of Greensboro, vice president; Dr. Parran Jarboe, of Greensboro, secretary and treasurer.

At the close of the session, the ladies of High Point served a banquet complimentary to the members in the rooms of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Club.

W. C. FLOURNOY INSANE.

Being Held In Davidson Jail Pending Admission to Asylum for the Insane.

Mr. W. C. Flournoy, a young man who was in this city last week representing himself as an officer of the Thomasville Audit and Accounting Company, is now in the Davidson county jail, pending his admission to the State Hospital for the Insane. Flournoy's mind, it is stated, has been unbalanced for some time and he talks of contracts he is making with the Southern Power Company and the Southern Railway. While in this city last week he told of several big deals he was closing up. Incidentally he gave several drafts and yesterday the police, not knowing that he was in custody awaiting admission to the asylum for the insane, issued a warrant against him, charging him with giving bogus checks to local firms.

Mr. Flournoy, whose home is in Charlotte, is said to be a young man of fine ability and much popularity and his friends will be pained to learn of his mental unbalance. The following is from the Lexington Dispatch:

"Mr. W. C. Flournoy, of Charlotte, was brought here Monday from Thomasville and lodged in the county jail, awaiting transfer to the State Hospital for the insane at Morganton. Mr. Flournoy is bookkeeper by profession and is said to be an excellent accountant. His insanity takes an unusual form. He believes himself very rich, and is constantly arranging big contracts with the Southern Power Company, the Southern Railway and other great corporations and he is firmly of the opinion that he is being grossly persecuted by the Republicans of Thomasville. He is a man of good appearance. His wife, who lives in Charlotte, is trying to arrange for his admission to the asylum at Morganton. Meanwhile, he is being made comfortable at the county jail."

DEAN SOUTHWICK IN "THE RIVALS" TONIGHT

Famous Lecturer-Reciter to Appear At West Market Street Church Annex.

Of Dean Henry Lawrence Southwick, who is to appear at the annex of West Market Street Methodist church this evening at 8 o'clock, the Chautauqua Idea Magazine says: "It is not strange that Dean Southwick should have been chosen as the head of the greatest school of oratory in the world, nor that calls for his recitals come each year from Maine to California. He stands easily at the head of all interpreters of dramatic literature."

The entertainment will begin promptly at 8 o'clock, and it is requested that the audience gather before that time in order that the reciter may not be interrupted by late arrivals as he will be compelled to begin at the above hour.

The Atlanta Constitution says:

A more powerful and more beautifully expressed discourse on any subject has not been heard here in many a day. Professor Southwick is justly considered the most powerful exponent of Shakespearean philosophy and expression in the country, and his lectures on the great creations of the greatest dramatist the world has ever known are gems of oratory.

PLAN TO HELP THE CHILDREN

A Playground Stamp Will be Issued.

Playground and Kindergarten Association Adopts This Method of Arousing Interest and Securing Assistance of Greensboro People In Movement—Meeting of Association Held Yesterday Afternoon—Interesting Letters Read From Similar Organizations.

A meeting of the Greensboro Playground and Kindergarten Association was held yesterday afternoon in the parlors of the Elks' Club building, and the aims, objects and proposed work of the association outlined and discussed. While several of the most interested and active members were kept away by sickness and other circumstances unavoidable, those who braved the chill of the crisp December breezes were unanimous in the opinion that Greensboro had made a great mistake in allowing itself to grow to its present size without having provided a single small park or public square anywhere near the center of the city and that in all probability no effort would ever be made to have one unless the more public spirited citizens would get behind the movement with the earnestness and enthusiasm which means success.

To make people alive to the importance of such civic necessities is the first step in the campaign now well under way, the committee having been busy devising ways and means to enlist the sympathy and co-operation of every citizen of the town—men, women and children. Profiting by the experience of other cities which have from small beginnings, purchased property and equipped playgrounds which have, alone as real estate investments, proved most valuable, the Greensboro Playground and Kindergarten Association has decided to issue a playground stamp as a means of raising revenue, while at the same time advertising Greensboro and affording a means for the children themselves to aid in the enterprise. The stamps, which are expected to arrive early next week, are beautiful in design and artistic in finish. They will be sold for two cents apiece and be used, as the Red Cross stamp or any other printed seal. Senders of Christmas packages, whether in or out of the city, are urged to use these stamps instead of the usual Christmas seals, remembering that every stamp used means two cents towards the purchase of a public park and playground in Greensboro. If every one of Greensboro's 42,000 (?) population would average only five stamps, costing 10 cents, think what it would mean? Of course everybody will not buy the stamps—could not be expected to do so, but it is hoped that those in sympathy with the public playground and kindergarten movement will use enough to bring up the average. Prizes will be offered the children for collections of these stamps and thus the interest will be kept up. The stamps will be offered for sale at convenient places—announcement to be made later—and Christmas shoppers are asked to put them on their lists and wait for them.

Among the interesting communications and reports in the hands of the secretary were a number of letters from similar organizations all over the country offering aid and co-operation with helpful suggestions. The idea of the association is to get outside help after the citizens have shown sufficient interest to warrant such action. The proposition to the effect that: "God helps those who help themselves" holds good equally with philanthropists. And every citizen can do something—if it is only to buy one stamp.

VENTILATION OF SCHOOL BUILDING

Aldermen Asked For Up-to-Date System.

Met Yesterday Afternoon With Board of Education to Discuss Matter—Not Enough Money From Bond Issue to Install Ventilating System and Aldermen Are Asked to Order It Done—Committee To Investigate.

The Board of Aldermen met in special session yesterday afternoon for the purpose of considering with the City Board of Education the question of installing an up-to-date heating and ventilating system in the Central High School building as the work of construction is being done. After discussing the matter at length the board authorized the appointment of a committee to meet with the Board of Education and a ventilating engineer and go into the matter more thoroughly. Aldermen Albright, Glasscock and Smith were appointed on the committee.

The Board of Education has sufficient funds to install the heating system, but the members deemed it advisable to install a ventilating system also and in order to do this it was necessary to secure authority from the aldermen that it would mean the expenditure of something like $2,000 more than the bond issue.

In a number of states laws have been passed requiring that all school rooms have certain ventilation, and it is predicted that in the near future, if not at the coming session of the state legislature, such a law will be enacted in North Carolina. For this reason it is considered advisable to install the ventilating system as the building is being constructed as the cost would be considerably less than after the building is completed. And too should this be done the heating plant that would be installed would have to be torn out and thrown aside.

The regular heating system would cost less than $3,000, while a fairly good heating and ventilating system can be installed at a cost of something less than $5,000. The system proposed, or rather recommended, by the Board of Education, is one now extensively used with success in various Virginia cities and also in Durham, Durham having recently torn out a heating system and installed the system proposed for Greensboro. The school board contends that it will be much less expensive to put in a ventilating system at present than to have to tear out and install one should the city be compelled by law to do so.

The engineer, Mr. E. C. Wylie, of Lynchburg, will meet with the Board of Education and the committee from the Board of Aldermen in the near future when the merits of his system will be explained.

An Enjoyable Occasion.

The Board of Stewards of West Market Street Methodist church gave a most enjoyable reception last evening to the members of the congregation and their friends. The reception was held in the new annex, several hundred being present. A committee of young ladies served light refreshments and an hour was spent most delightfully by those present.

The members took advantage of the occasion and welcomed with sincere cordiality a large number of friends in a way that could only be made possible by a reception or social gathering of the kind. During the evening there were recitations by Misses Morton and Davis and a solo by Miss Woodley, of Greensboro Female College.

Federal Court Monday.

The regular monthly meeting of the Greensboro Woman's Club will be held Saturday morning, Dec. 3, at 10:30 o'clock, in the assembly room of the Carnegie Library. As this is an important meeting every member is urged to make a special effort to attend.

JUDGE CONNOR AFTER LAWYER

Ed. S. Abell May be Held For Contempt.

Johnston County Attorney Produces Telegram, Which Investigation Showed Was a Fake, Stating His Wife Was Ill and Thus Procured Continuance of Case—Judge Connor Says Lawyers Must Live Up To Standard Required.

Raleigh, Dec. 1.—In the Federal court this morning Judge Connor, directed the clerk of the court to write Ed. S. Abell, attorney of Johnston county, to show cause why he is not in contempt of court. He procured yesterday the continuance of a case through showing the court a telegram he said he received from Smithfield to the effect that Mrs. Abell was ill so that he must come home at once. Investigation has shown that no such telegram was received here for Mr. Abell who had gone to his home yesterday just as soon as the order was made continuing the case.

District Attorney Seawell, in bringing the matter to the official attention of the court this morning, expressed regret at having to do so but declared that there was no other honorable course open to him when there seemed to be so clearly an imposition on the court.

Judge Connor stated from the bench that lawyers practicing in the Federal court must live up to those standards of character required by the state court that licenses them before they come to practice in the Federal court. He said a lawyer of a nearby town came here earlier in the week and became so intoxicated as to be unable to appear in

HOW TO CURE RHEUMATISM
It Is An Internal Disease And Requires An Internal Remedy.

The cause of rheumatism and kindred diseases is an excess of uric acid in the blood. To cure this terrible disease this acid must be expelled and the system so regulated that no more acid will be formed in excessive quantities. Rheumatism is an internal disease and requires an internal remedy. RUBBING with Oils and Liniments WILL NOT CURE, affords only temporary relief at best, causes you to delay the proper treatment and allows the disease to gain a stronger hold on you. Liniments may ease the pain, but they will no more cure Rheumatism than paint will change the color of rotten wood.

Science has at last discovered a perfect and complete cure, which is called Rheumacide. Tested in hundreds of cases, it has effected the most marvelous cures; we believe it will cure you. Rheumacide gets at the joints from the inside, sweeps the poisons out of the system, tones up the stomach, regulates the liver and kidneys and makes you well all over. Rheumacide strikes the root of the disease and removes its cause. This splendid remedy is sold by druggists and dealers generally at 50c. and $1 a bottle. In Tablet form at 25c. and 50c. a package. Write to Bobbitt Chemical Co., Baltimore, Md. Booklet free. Tablets sent by mail.

Mrs. Evelyn Gerst, of Salem, Va., writes: "Three years ago I had a rough place on my cheek, it would burn and itch. I was fearful it might be of a cancerous nature. FOR GREAT UNION
OF ALL METHODISTS

Plan to Bring Together the Three Branches Discussed.

Baltimore Evening Sun.

With the celebration of the Holy Communion and the singing of old Methodist hymns, the conference of representatives of the three great bodies of the Methodist Church, looking forward to a union of the three divisions of the church, opened this afternoon at Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, South, Madison avenue and Preston street. The three divisions of the Methodists represented are the Methodist Protestant church, the Methodist Episcopal church, and the Southern Methodist church.

The convention is one of the most important church gatherings ever held in this country. Each one of the three divisions of Methodists represented has millions of adherents. The union of these three great bodies would be one of the greatest movements for unity in the history of Christianity.

Already the Methodist Episcopal Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church South have divided the mission field between them. This was considered the first step toward the ultimate union of the two bodies. The faith of the Southern Methodist Church and that of the Methodist Episcopal Church is practically the same. Until the Civil War these two churches were united, but at the outbreak of the War the Southern Methodists formed their own body, and when the war concluded they did not return to the fold of the Northern Methodists.

Unlike the two branches of the Methodist Episcopal Church, the Methodist Protestants have no bishops. This church split off from the main body of Methodists in 1824 because its members did not approve of the episcopacy. It is said, however, that the members of the church are willing to exchange their presidents, elected for a term of years, for bishops, for the sake of union.

Take Care!
Remember that when your kidneys are affected your life is in danger. M. May, Rochester, N. Y., says: "My trouble started with a sharp shooting pain over my back which grew worse daily. I felt sluggish and tired, my kidney action was irregular and infrequent. I started using Foley's Kidney Pills. Each dose seemed to put new life and strength into me, and now I am completely cured and feel better and stronger than for years." Howard Gardner.

BAD ON HOBBLE SKIRT WOMEN.

Jersey City Pay-As-You-Enter Cars Have High Steps.

New York, Nov. 30.—The pay-as-you-enter cars have high steps, so high in Jersey City that the municipality will have to employ 100 or so extra policemen to help on board women who wear even a mild form of the hobble skirt, according to a complaint made today to the Public Utilities Commission.

Assemblyman Davidson, of Hudson county, made the complaint. It was pointed out that these cars also make Jersey men stretch their legs almost to a breaking point. Women, fair and prominent, say they need assistance almost every time they enter a car.

"Officer, please assist me," is heard every second or so in the busy thoroughfares of Jersey City. The Public Utilities Commission will either have to make an order forcing the Public Service Corporation to lower the steps or the city will have to make an additional appropriation for "assisting" policemen.

You Must Read This if You Want the Benefit.

J. W. Greer, Greenwood, La., suffered with a severe case of lumbago. "The pains were so intense I was forced to hypodermic injections for relief. These attacks started with a pain in the small of my back which gradually became fairly paralyzing. My attention was attracted to Foley's Kidney Remedy and I am glad to say after using this wonderful medicine I am no longer bothered in any way by my old enemy lumbago." Howard Gardner.

A Utilitarian

"He was very much interested," replied young Mrs. Torkins. "He says that if I can only make them large enough they may do a lot toward cutting down his automobile tire bill."—Washington Star.

Lard is the most commonly used cooking fat, yet, according to well-known authorities, not 10% of the food cooked with lard digests naturally and easily; the other 90%, instead of nourishing the body, merely clogs the digestive organs and starts stomach trouble.

Cottolene is as pure, nutritious and wholesome as olive oil, and makes food which any stomach can digest. It is more economical than lard because it goes one-third farther.

An Interview

In Which a Lover Asks For His Girl

By VERNON ARNOLD

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

"What's this? Kit engaged! What rascal has been buzzing around her without my knowing anything about it? Why, she's nothing but a child. I'll take her off to Europe, bury her anything to get her away from the puppy."

These words were spoken by Mr. Charles Manning on receiving a letter from his daughter, aged twenty, who was away on a visit, stating that she had become engaged to one of the--no, not one of the finest, but the finest fellow in the world. He was abundantly able to support a wife in good style. Every one spoke well of him. Indeed, she had been informed that she had got a treasure. The letter also announced that the young man had gone to the city to "speak" to her father and would call upon him that evening at their home in the suburbs for the purpose. Mr. Manning got into the 5:10 afternoon train to go home, being the only one of the family occupying the house at the time. He pulled an evening paper from his pocket and tried to read, but his thoughts were upon the prospective loss of his daughter, whom he adored. A young man sat down on the vacant seat beside him.

"Fine day, sir," remarked the young man.

"Yes, very," replied Mr. Manning shortly.

"You don't remember me, Mr. Manning. I once met you at the Averys."

Now, Mr. Manning when he was himself was a very genial man. He was getting to that age when he didn't remember people and names as well as he had, and it troubled him. He looked up at the young man and said,

"Yes, I do, perfectly. How do you do? I haven't met you for some time."

"How are Mrs. Manning and Miss Katherine?"

"Very well, very well indeed. They are away just now, and I am alone in that deuced big house."

"I expect to be alone myself this evening. I wish you would help me through it by dining with me."

"Oh, no! I couldn't do that. I have an engagement. But you might dine with me. I shall not have to spend more than half an hour with the other one."

"You're very kind. I'll dine with you with pleasure."

Dreading the interview in which he was expected to give away his own dear little Kit, whom he had loved, honored and obeyed since childhood, Mr. Manning was pleased that he would have an excuse to cut the interview short. Before reaching their station he had told of his daughter's engagement--he couldn't keep from speaking of a subject that absorbed him--and informed his unknown acquaintance that he had no doubt the man she was to marry would prove especially displeasing to him.

At dinner the young man was sympathetic and said he didn't really see how a father could bear to part with his child, especially so lovely a girl as Katherine. This touched the old man's heart, and it went right straight out to the young one. A bottle of wine at dinner cheered the father a bit, and he felt so much better for it that he told the butler to bring another. The young man--Mr. Manning tried indirectly to find out his name, but failed--did everything in his power to cheer his host, avowing that if any man asked for his daughter he would kick him out of the house.

By the time the second bottle had been finished the old gentleman had become quite mellow. Suddenly he looked at the clock. "Half past 9," he exclaimed, "and the chump hasn't turned up yet! I only hope he's been killed on the way!"

"But think how hard that would be on Miss Kittie."

An hour passed, and the expected party had not arrived.

"William," called Mr. Manning, "lock the front door and if any one calls say I've gone to bed."

"That's a capital plan," suggested the guest. "If you could keep him out long enough you might get rid of him forever. Now that he can't get in tonight to interrupt me, I'll tell you a secret. I've long loved your daughter myself."

"You don't mean it?"

"I do, and that she should marry any one else would kill me. That's the reason I sympathize so heartily with you."

"I wish I'd known it; I might have helped you along."

"As to the man she is to marry, I assure you he's unworthy of her."

"Are you sure of it?"

"Perfectly."

"Oh, good gracious, what shall I do?"

"Help me to beat him. It's long been a tie between us."

"How?"

"Give me a letter to her stating that if she must marry any one you will only consent that she marry me. She thinks more of you than any lover and you can easily turn the scale."

"By Jove, I'll do it."

Half an hour later the young man left with a letter to Miss Manning from her father stating that the bearer would be his choice for her husband. In due time a reply came:

Dearest Papa--I'm so glad you are pleased with Archie. He tells me he met you on the train and dined with you. Your loving KIT.

"By thunder!" exclaimed the old gentleman. "How he did play it on me!"

Mr. B. N. Duke says that it is the purpose of the Southern Power Company to connect Durham and Charlotte with an electric line as soon as possible. That has the right ring. Come on with the interurban!

Mr. Woodrow Wilson insists that the will of the party as expressed at the primaries shall not be defeated. He will be opposed by Senator Smith and retainers, but in the eyes of the nation he thus adds to his renown as a statesman as well as a scholar.

There are 1500 people in Chicago that may be considered fit for the best society.—Mrs. Chatfield-Chatfield Taylor.

New York has it down to 400 and New York is much larger than Chicago. Evidently Chicago as an exclusive town is not strong.

It is estimated that not less than 3000 delegates will attend the National Rivers and Harbors Congress to be held in Washington city, December 7 to 9. This congress will not mean more to any other state than to North Carolina, and it is to be hoped that a large delegation of enthusiastic North Carolinians will be present.

Surely the Democrats of New York State can do better than elect "Blue-eyed Billy" Sheehan to the United States Senate. He is a shrewd political manipulator and when that is said, there is little to add in his credit. Edward M. Shepard, owing to his corporation connections, is by no means an ideal man for the place, but he is vastly preferable to Sheehan.

There was a time when the Britons groaned as being in danger of destruction by the deep sea on the one hand and the barbarians on the other. It seems to us that King George finds himself at present in a situation not much less hazardous. If he retreats one step he will be forced to take two. But if he doesn't order the march very soon we shall see even merrier times in England than we see now.

J. J. Britt, of Asheville, has been appointed third assistant postmaster general. The appointment is doubtless to be credited to the influence of E. C. Duncan, indicating that Mr. Duncan still stands well at court. Britt has been a loyal friend to Duncan. He was about the last man to give up the ship in the big engagement here in August. And Duncan bears the reputation of not forgetting his friends.

Doctor Cook didn't get to the pole, but he is a past master at slipping around without being detected. He was in London for months before the fact was generally made known. And only recently he came to this country, made arrangements with a magazine to publish his "confessions" and got back to London without a single keen-eyed reporter finding out that he wasn't in London all the while. Cook knows how to cover his tracks all right. And there will be plenty of people ready to take him at his word when he says that when he said he had found the pole he thought he was telling the truth.

Every wing of the Democratic party, including Colonel Bryan, is to be present at the "celebration" in Baltimore. Those who still fear the spell of oratorical power will not favor a speech from the Colonel, but he will not be in Baltimore sight-seeing. Fact is, it will be a dangerous procedure to spring issues at the "celebration;" for we doubt if any of the noted leaders, whether Colonel Bryan, Champ Clark, or any of the rest of them, will be able to confine themselves to speeches on so tame a subject as pacification; there is no war, either pending or imminent, and the subject lacks appositeness. Virile leaders need oratorical ammunition, and there is a supply in the party arsenal too handy to be left unnoticed.

BIG FIGHT AT THE PIE COUNTER PREDICTED

And It Will Be Morehead and Butler Against Duncan and Adams Politicians Say.

Winston Sentinel: Shrewd politicians are saying that they see a big fight brewing between the two Republican factions in North Carolina, one being directed by State Chairman Morehead and Marion Butler and the other by National Committeeman Duncan and Executive Chairman Spencer B. Adams.

It is understood that Mr. Adams has not lost hope of securing District Attorney Holton's job. The Duncan-Adams forces, so the story goes, are anxious to get the ear of President Taft and whisper a few things about the management of the recent campaign in North Carolina.

Then, too, it is being talked that Congressman Cowles, of the Eighth district, and Congressman Grant, of the Tenth, who were defeated recently, are both expecting to be cared for. Both, it seems, have their eye on the chairmanship in this district, a job that was to have gone to Henry Reynolds, editor of the Wilkesboro Patriot, who failed to be confirmed after the President sent his name to the Senate. Mr. George H. Brown, of Statesville, is still in charge of the job.

Then Pence, the versatile Washington correspondent of the Raleigh News and Observer, has an interesting story in this morning's paper in which he says that many of the "lame ducks"—defeated candidates—are counting on President Taft to take care of them after next March. Mr. Pence goes on to say:

Today the news came from a Buncombe county Republican that John Gaston Grant wants the job, and what is more, that he is going after it. The fight will be an interesting one, for the reason that Grant will have the support of Morehead and Butler, who are or have been in command of the distribution of Federal patronage in the State. Butler & Co. will be against Cowles, primarily, for the reason that he sided with National Committeeman Duncan in his unsuccessful fight for control of the Republican State Convention. But, more than this, Morehead has not forgotten that it was Charlie Cowles who tried to prevent his election as a member of the Republican Congressional Committee. The selection was made by the three Republican Congressmen from the State, and, to keep Morehead out of the position, Cowles tried to get Grant to vote for himself, for with Cowles' vote, he would have turned the trick. This will be the first opportunity Morehead has had to settle the old score.

Cowles can command the support of Postmaster General Hitchcock and other influences here at the capital. It looks like this contest will afford a test of strength of the Morehead Butler faction against the Duncan-Adams faction at the White House. The Republicans opposed to Butler and Morehead's further domination of the party in North Carolina are just itching for an opportunity to get to the White House and tell Mr. Taft how they believe the Republican opportunity for winning four congressional seats in North Carolina was tossed away in the late campaign. To get down to brass tacks, the fight on Butler is now inside the Republican party in the State, and is to be taken to the White House, and it looks like the western collectiveness is to be the peg on which the factional fight among the Republicans in the State will be decided.

Marriage Licenses. During the month of November marriage licenses were issued from the office of the register of deeds for sixty-three couples. Of this number fifty-one were for white couples and twelve for colored couples. December is always a record breaker in the marriage license business and it is believed that the record of 110 last December will be broken during the present month.

Graves in China.

There are various kinds of graves in China. The graves are dug generally from twelve feet to thirteen feet below the ground, while, according to an old custom, the mounds of the graves of emperors were thirty feet in height, those of territorial lords fifteen feet and those of barons without territories and of lord stewards eight feet, while for inferior officials and common people mounds only four feet in height were erected. Pines were planted on the tombs of emperors, a species of oak on those of territorial lords, a species of willow on those of barons and lord stewards and elm trees on those of inferior officials. Although there are no territorial lords and lord stewards now in China, men of high rank still have their tombs constructed in accordance with this old custom.

He Loved His Enemies. James MacNell Whistler looked upon life as upon a kind of warfare and was never so happy as when he was quarreling with somebody. He is quoted as having said when asked if he did not have many friends: "Yes, I have many friends, and I am grateful to them but those whom most I love are my enemies, not in a Biblical sense. Oh, no, but because they keep one always busy, always up to the mark, either fighting them or proving them idiots."

Then He Sulked. "Mrs. Gushcley remarked to me that it must be pleasant to be married to a clever man," said Proudly's wife. "And what did you say?" queried Proudly.

"I told her, of course, that I didn't know; that I had only been married once."

MRS. YEARYBY'S FUNERAL

Remains Interred In Durham Cemetery Beside Those of Nephew Yesterday Afternoon.

The remains of Mrs. Emma A. Yearby, whose death occurred at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. H. Stone, Sr., Wednesday night, were taken to Durham on the 9:40 train yesterday morning, accompanied by Mr. W. H. Stone, Jr., Miss Fannie Stone and Mr. John Stone.

The following account of the funeral is from yesterday's Durham Sun:

Trinity church was the scene this afternoon at 3 o'clock of one of the saddest events ever held in this city, when Rev. E. R. Leyburn, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, assisted by Rev. W. C. Barrett, pastor of the Second Baptist church, conducted a double funeral service. A large gathering of mourners attended the service to pay their last sad respects to the departed ones.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robbins were greatly bereaved when the death of their son was announced yesterday afternoon, but a greater shock was added last night, when upon hearing the news of the death of her nephew, Mrs. Yearby, a sister of Mrs. Robbins suddenly expired.

The remains were brought to this city this morning on the 11:38 train and the funeral held at Trinity church at the same time as that of Mr. Robbins.

The remains of the aunt and nephew were interred side by side in Maplewood cemetery this afternoon. The pall-bearers for Mr. Robbins were Messrs. C. B. Markham, W. C. Lindsey, J. D. Pruden, J. W. Chandler, W. J. Monk and L. G. Cole. The floral bearers were Jeffrey Cozart, Will Holman, Sneed Sasser, Robert Harris, Arnold Briggs and Robert Shaw.

The pall-bearers for Mrs. Yearby were: Messrs. C. B. Green, R. A. Knight, Henry Perry, C. L. Haywood, T. J. Lambe and O. P. McArthur. The same floral bearers officiated for both funerals.

MR. TURNER'S FUNERAL

Services Held From West Market Street Methodist Church Yesterday Afternoon.

The funeral of Mr. Lysander Turner, whose death occurred Wednesday morning, was held from West Market Street Methodist church yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. E. K. McElroy, pastor of the deceased. A large number of friends of the deceased were present to pay their last tribute of respect.

The funeral was attended by Guilford Camp, Confederate Veterans, and Guilford Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, which bodies occupied the front pews of the church. There was a profusion of flowers.

Following the services the remains were interred at Green Hill cemetery, the following acting as pall-bearers: Messrs. G. H. McKinney, C. H. Ireland, C. C. Hinkle, S. M. Bumpass, J. W. Scott and Frank Bennett.

Real Estate Transfers

November was busy month in real estate circles. The records in the office of the Register of Deeds' office show that the aggregate consideration of deeds filed during the month was more than $125,000. There are always a number of deeds recorded that do not give the consideration. The parties to the transaction not wishing to make the terms public simply make the consideration $1.

In addition to the deeds a large number of rights of way and several hundred mortgage deeds were recorded and a large number were cancelled.

Major White Here

Last night Major White, divisional commander of the Salvation Army, spoke in the Army Hall before a good sized audience. Major White is on a tour of inspection of the local corps in the different cities. He complimented Lieut. Miller on the work being done here. Major White will leave this morning for Charlotte where he speaks tonight. He is accompanied by Lieut. Sickman, a noted army soloist.

The remains were brought to this city this morning on the 11:38 train and the funeral held at Trinity church at the same time as that of Mr. Robbins.

The remains of the aunt and nephew were interred side by side in Maplewood cemetery this afternoon. The pall-bearers for Mr. Robbins were Messrs. C. B. Markham, W. C. Lindsey, J. D. Pruden, J. W. Sale Begins Monday Morning, Nov. 28th, at 8:30—Easy Payments to Everybody—Out-of-Town People Should Attend This Great Sale—Open Evenings Until 9. 324 South Elm Street, Greensboro, N. C.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PUBLIC.

We have occupied our present store ever since we opened business in Greensboro, and not until the last few days was it possible for us to secure a long time lease on the building so that we could expand.

Now that we have secured the store, we feel that we can go ahead and make the necessary changes at once in order to meet the requirements of our large and growing business.

We have the utmost confidence in Greensboro's growth and we are going to make our store the most complete music store to be found in any city.

As soon as we can make room, we are going to put in a complete line of sheet music and small musical merchandise; in fact, we are going to carry everything from a "Jew's Harp" to a piano.

This has been a growing demand on us for some time and we feel that Greensboro should have such a store. We propose to carry everything in stock to assist the music teachers and the musical people in general.

Now to begin with, we are going to clean house by offering our entire stock of fine pianos and organs at prices that will insure quick removal.

This must be done first, as the front of our store is going to be torn away at once and changed in many ways to make room for the department.

We have a very large stock of pianos and organs and right on top of all this, here comes a solid car of fine sample pianos, which will pack our warerooms full on every floor.

We secured these pianos from the factory exhibit at Reidsville, and they must be sold.

These are all the highest grade pianos, right from the factory and were on exhibition for a short time at Reidsville, and having secured them at a considerable reduction, we are in position to give quick buyers the benefit of the lowest prices ever known on high class pianos.

We decided the best way to clean house is to offer this stock of fine pianos at prices and terms that will insure their quick removal to the homes of customers.

THE FOG BUOY.

A Safeguard to Fleets of Warships In Thick Weather.

Probably the greatest menace to the safety of navigation at sea is the fog. Modern steamships are seldom endangered by the most severe weather, but when the impenetrable envelope of mist incloses a ship she is exposed to the most terrible of perils, a collision at sea. A single ship may be comparatively safe even in a fog, but where there is a fleet of vessels the danger is greatly multiplied. There is always considerable danger, too, on account of the fact that many of the ship lines have what could be termed a beaten path across the ocean, and they always follow this route when possible.

In addition to the customary fog horns and sirens, a fleet of warships often keep informed of their relative positions by the firing of signal guns at intervals only a few minutes apart. Another method used is the fog buoy. Each vessel in the fleet, especially if it is a warship fleet, carries a fog buoy, a large cask painted a vivid red. This is cast overboard at the first sign of a fog, and it floats from the stern of the vessel, attached to a rope of grass fiber, which does not sink beneath the surface of the water. By this means the exact location of the individual ships of the fleet is maintained, even though proceeding at a moderate rate of speed.—Wichita Eagle.

AN ANCIENT CUSTOM.

Wassailing of Apple Trees Still Observed in Parts of England.

What is the wassailing of apple trees?

This is an old custom, fast dying out, but still observed in parts of Somerset and Devon. At Wootton-Basset, near Minehead, the ceremony takes place on old Twelfth eve. All assemble at the farmhouse and after a hearty meal form a procession to the nearest orchard, the master in front with a light and men with old guns, blunderbusses and anything that makes a noise in the rear. Plenty of cider is taken and some pieces of toast.

When the orchard is reached a ring is formed, and the master, in the center, seizes a branch and sings a verse beginning "Oh, apple tree, I wassail thee, in hopes that thou wilt blow." Then all shout in chorus:

Haftfuls, capfuls, three bushel bagfuls, Barn fullfuls, tullet holefuls And a little heap under the stairs.

Then follow cheers, drinking of healths, shouts of "Now, Tom Pod, we wassail thee!" and the placing of the pieces of toast, soaked in cider, among the branches for the robins.—London Answers.

The Porcupine.

Mother Nature surely must have set out to make "something different" the day she invented the porcupine. Here was an animal with a pathetically mild disposition, without cunning or courage and almost as slow and clumsy as a turtle. It would have been absurd to give him weapons of defense; he would never have the energy to attack anything, so he was given a coat of mail in which he might walk abroad among his enemies and yet be as safe as though he were behind a wall of steel. His upper parts, from his nose to the tip of his thick, muscular tail, are covered with a mass of sharp pointed quills intermixed with coarse hair. Each quill is provided with a number of minute barbs pointing backward, so that when it is once inserted in the flesh of any animal the mere movement of the muscles will cause it to work deeper and deeper.—Suburban Life.

Her Artistic Instinct.

The girl was a dainty thing in pink, evidently a stranger in Boston. The fellow had Harvard written all over him. They were standing in the delivery room of the public library, and he was explaining to her the decorations by Edwin Abbey which illustrate the legend of the Holy Grail. As he talked he glanced occasionally at his fair listener and seemed pleased to find her apparently lost in rapture. Finally, when his stock of knowledge was exhausted, he exclaimed:

"Why, I never before knew that you were so interested in art!"

For a moment longer she continued to gaze at the painting; then, with a tremulous sigh, she turned to him with:

"I have been wondering how many pieces it would make if cut up into one of those picture puzzles."—Harper's Magazine.

Old Age of Oysters.

Oysters grow only during summer, and especially during long, warm summers at that, and are scarcely big enough for the mouth before the third year. It is easy after looking over a bunch of shells to tell how old an oyster is. A summer hump and the winter sink come across the shell every year, but after the seventh or tenth year full growth comes; then by looking at the sinks between the humps it is hard to tell anything more about Miss Oyster's age. Oysters easily live to be twenty years old.—New York Press.

A New One on Him.

It was after the stone laying ceremony, and a wife was sent to the builder with the news, "Stone laid with great eclat." The builder, smothering an awful oath, muttered, "Another new foreign cement!" and flung the missile from him in passionate disgust.—London Globe.

Labor rids us of three great evils—irksomeness, vice and poverty.—Voltaire.

A RUSSIAN SPY.

Trepoff's Ruse to Get at the Plans of the Nihilists.

When the famous General Trepoff was only at the beginning of his career Vera Sussulitch was his invaluable assistant.

Trepoff was the detested enemy of the nihilists, and he was very anxious to obtain inside information as to their doings and plans. Suddenly one day in 1878 he was fired at while driving through the streets of St. Petersburg by no other than Vera Sussulitch. She was at once seized by the soldiery and was charged with the attempted murder of Trepoff, being tried in the ordinary manner; but, to the amazement of the public, she was acquitted.

On her release the nihilists gathered about her, desiring to admit such a friend of the people to their closest acquaintance. In this way she was admitted to all their private circles and was made acquainted with their secrets. These she at once communicated to the Russian government. The truth was that the whole business, including the attempt on his life, was faked by Trepoff himself, and it was simply a clever ruse to get from the nihilists what could not be got in any other way. Thereafter Vera Sussulitch played the part of government spy on innumerable occasions.

A Simple Safeguard for Mothers. Mrs. D. Gilkeson, 326 Ingles Ave., Youngstown, Ohio, gained wisdom by experience. "My little girl had a severe cold and coughed almost continuously. My sister recommended Foley's Honey and Tar. The first dose I gave her relieved the inflammation in her throat and after using only one bottle her throat and lungs were entirely free from inflammation. Since then I always keep a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar in the house. Accept no substitutes. Howard Gardner.

Worse than an alarm of fire at night is the metallic cough of croup, bringing dread to the household. Careful mothers keep Foley's Honey and Tar in the house and give it at the first sign of danger. It contains no opiates. Howard Gardner.

CUSHION FOR MULE

Ella Takes a Rest in Shopping District and Blocks Traffic.

Baltimore Sun.

A brown mule answering to the name of Ella calmly took her ease yesterday afternoon at Lexington street and Park avenue, while the harassed driver heard all sorts of advice to the expeditious movement of the animal.

The mule was drawing a cart loaded with sand, and its destination was a half block away. Suddenly she slipped, fell and stayed where she was. The harness was cast off, the cart backed away, but Ella refused to rise. The driver used his whip and a few platitudes, but Ella continued to recline.

"Mister, did you say dat mule's name's Ella? Den tain't no use tryin' to get her started," said a negro.

"Cover its head with a blanket. It will rise as soon as it is unable to see," said a fashionably dressed woman.

"Offer it some hay, and it'll go after it," said a man.

"Appear indifferent, and the animal will get up," advised another.

Meanwhile Ella was blocking street car traffic, so three husky policemen, the driver and several interested bystanders tied ropes to Ella's legs and neck and hauled her out of the way. Clear of the track, she again settled to rest. The various suggestions were tried, but the only effect was to make Ella move any way but upward. After each trial she sank languidly and luxuriously to the cobbles and rested.

At last the driver got peevish and thrust his seat cushion under the mule's head.

"Lay there then, all day if you want. Take it easy," he said, sarcastically.

Then, after a few minutes' deliberation, Ella got up.

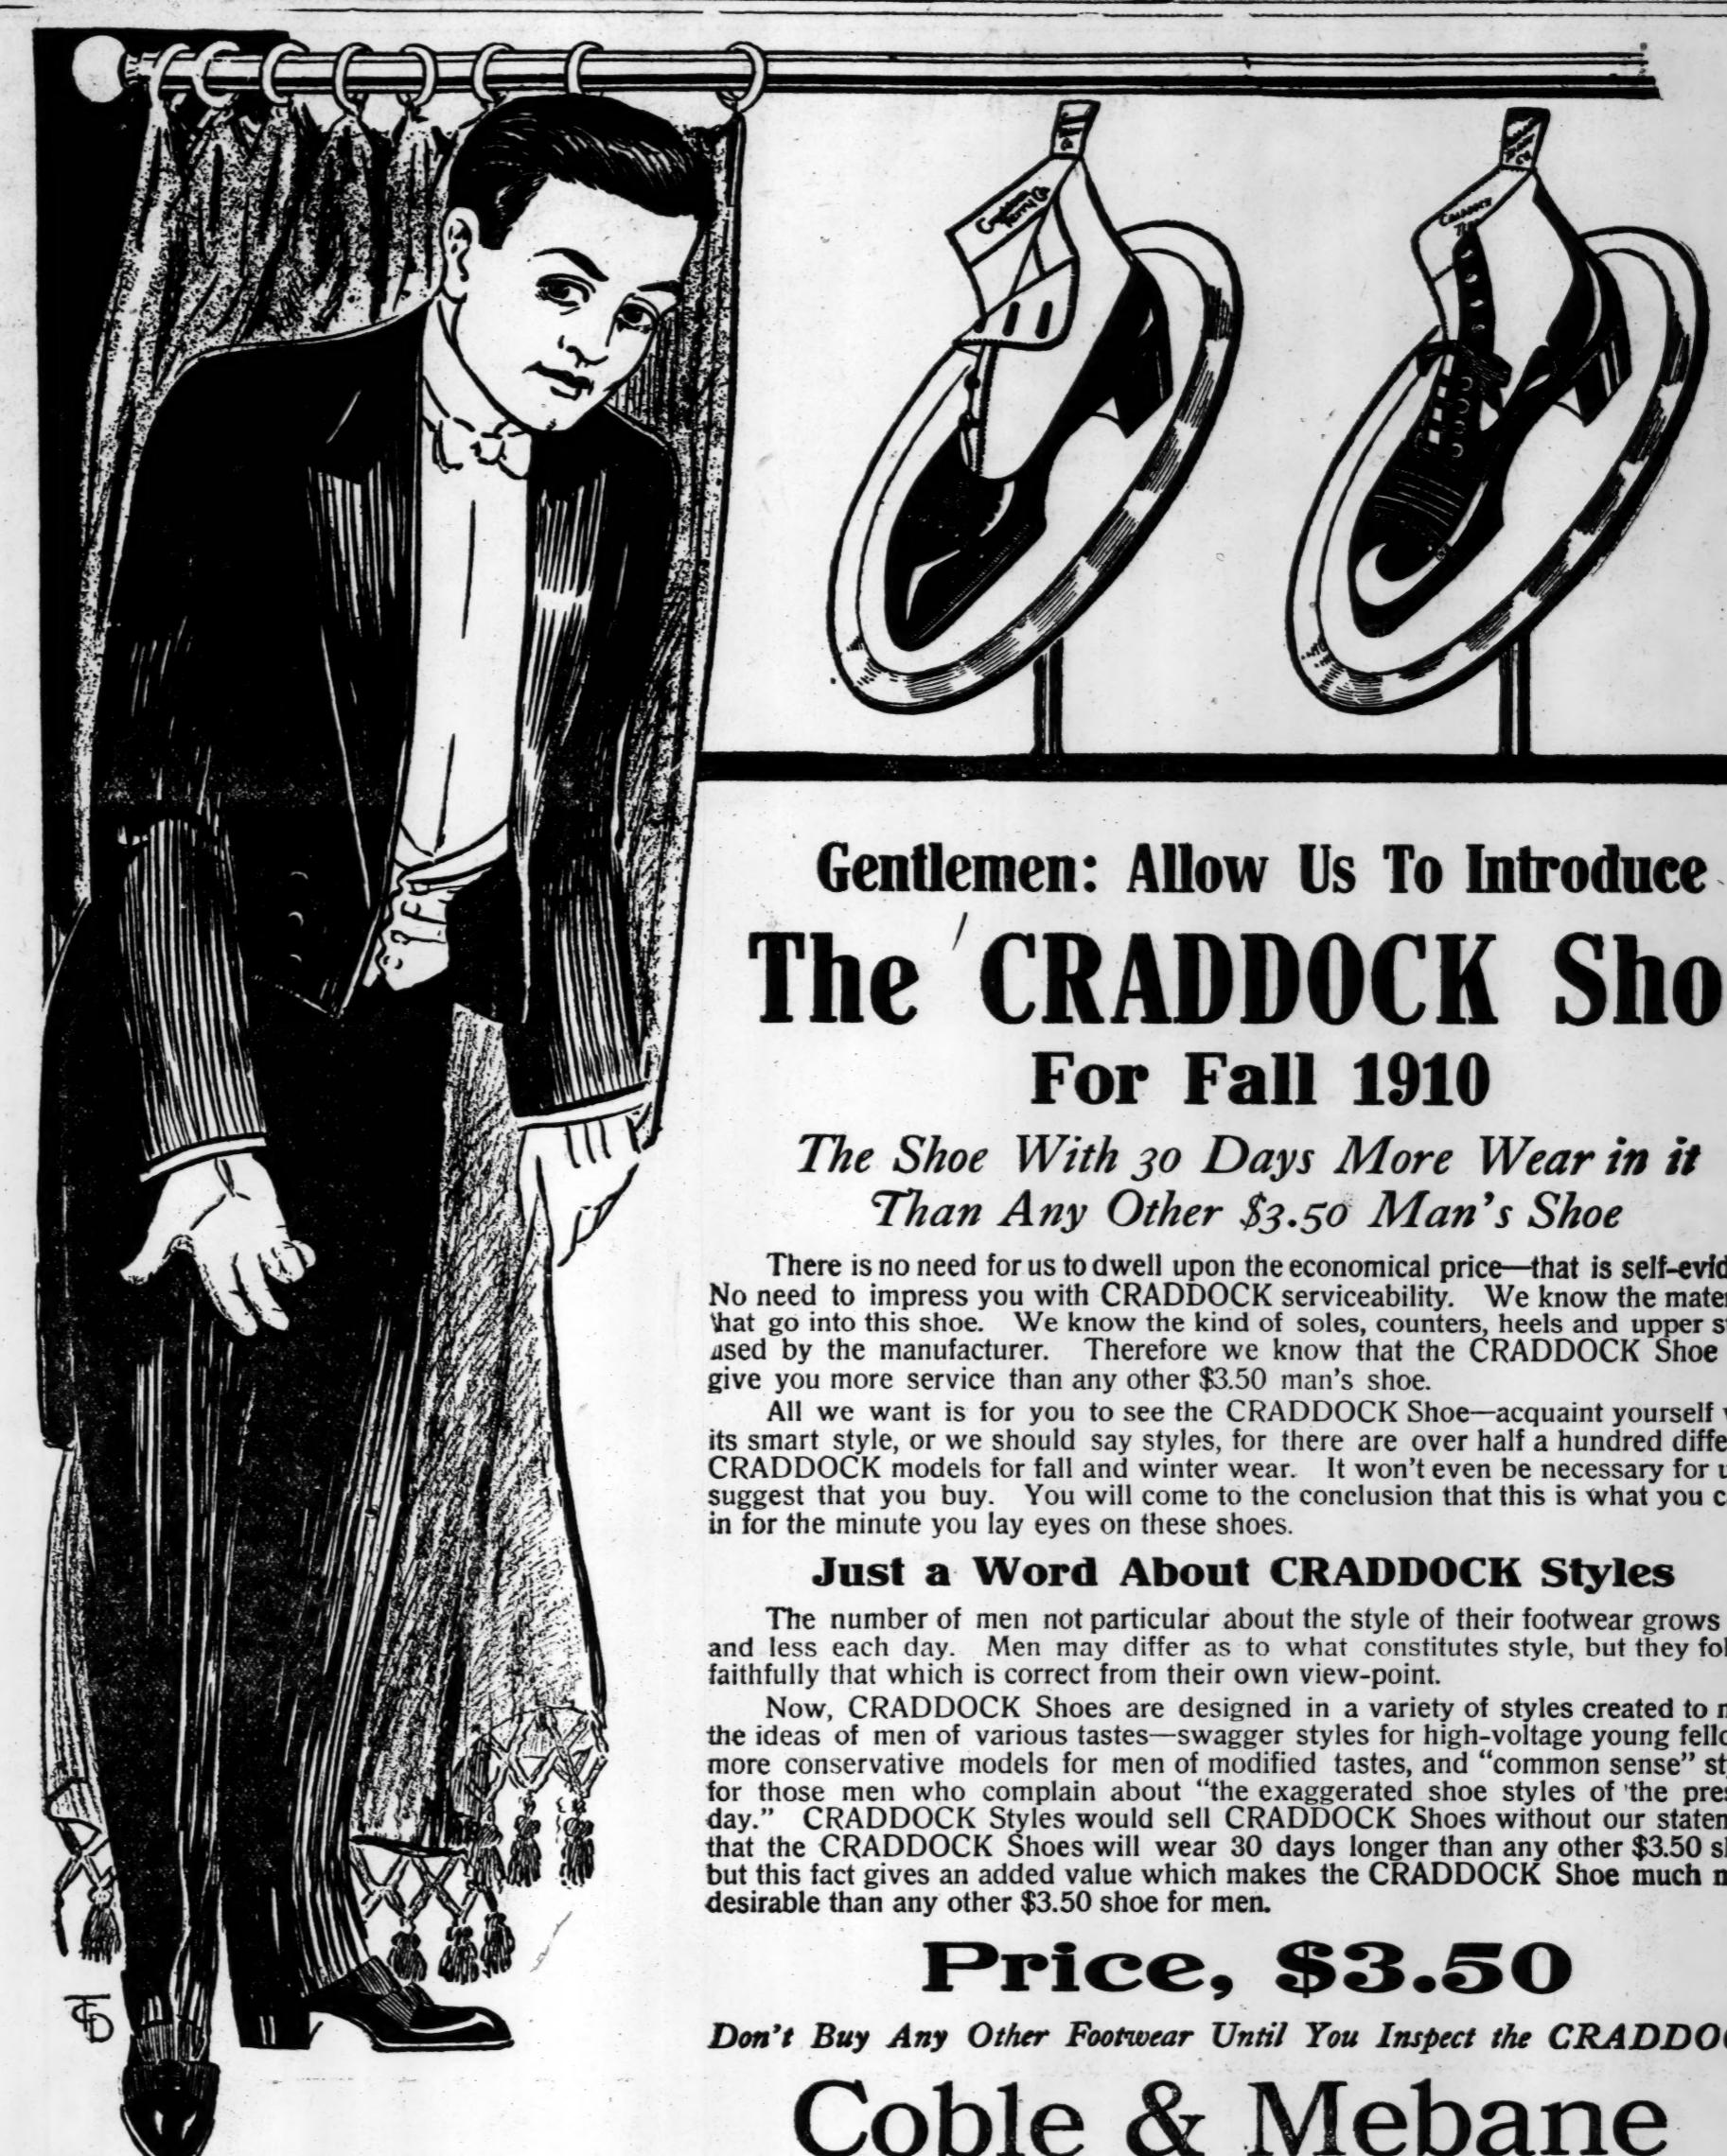

Have you boils, sores and indications of bad blood? There is danger of diphtheria. Vick's Sarsaparilla will relieve this condition promptly—50c.

Not Deceived. Madge—She said I put rouge on my face to deceive people. Wasn't that mean?"

Marjorie—It was, indeed, my dear. The way you put it on doesn't deceive anybody.—Ally Sloper.

The Springbok. A peculiarity of that most beautiful of South African antelopes the springbok is that it always leaps over human tracks. It is at once exceedingly shy and marvelously active, and the reason for this strange antic is its intense suspicion of any possible enemies, among whom it has come to recognize man as the most dangerous. It is not only with human tracks that the springbok goes through this performance, for it does the same with the tracks of lions or even when it gets wind of a lion. The leap is exceedingly graceful, and the animal covers from twelve to fifteen feet at each bound. It drops on all four feet at once and immediately rises again, making a clear spring without any run. Its usual gait when not pursued is a light sprightly trot. The springbok usually travels with its nose to the ground, as if constantly on the lookout for the scent of enemies.

Gentlemen: Allow Us To Introduce The 'CRADDOCK Shoe For Fall 1910

*The Shoe With 30 Days More Wear in it
Than Any Other $3.50 Man's Shoe*

There is no need for us to dwell upon the economical price—that is self-evident. No need to impress you with CRADDOCK serviceability. We know the materials that go into this shoe. We know the kind of soles, counters, heels and upper stock used by the manufacturer. Therefore we know that the CRADDOCK Shoe will give you more service than any other $3.50 man's shoe.

All we want is for you to see the CRADDOCK Shoe—acquaint yourself with its smart style, or we should say styles, for there are over half a hundred different CRADDOCK models for fall and winter wear. It won't even be necessary for us to suggest that you buy. You will come to the conclusion that this is what you came in for the minute you lay eyes on these shoes.

Just a Word About CRADDOCK Styles

The number of men not particular about the style of their footwear grows less and less each day. Men may differ as to what constitutes style, but they follow faithfully that which is correct from their own view-point.

Now, CRADDOCK Shoes are designed in a variety of styles created to meet the ideas of men of various tastes—swagger styles for high-voltage young fellows, more conservative models for men of modified tastes, and "common sense" styles for those men who complain about "the exaggerated shoe styles of the present day." CRADDOCK Styles would sell CRADDOCK Shoes without our statement that the CRADDOCK Shoe will wear 30 days longer than any other $3.50 shoe, but this fact gives an added value which makes the CRADDOCK Shoe much more desirable than any other $3.50 shoe for men.

THE RED CROSS STAMP.

One Million Printed Every Day—How to Use Them.

The report comes from Washington that a million Red Cross Christmas seals are being printed every day, and that already more than 60,000,000 have been given out to agents in all parts of the United States. The slogan, "A Million for Tuberculosis" will be made good.

These stamps are not printed by the government. They are not to be used for postage, and must not even be placed on the address side of the letter or package. Cards containing this ruling of the postoffice department in this regard are being posted wherever the Red Cross stamps are sold.

Be sure to get a Red Cross stamp for your letter or package, but don't forget that it must be placed on the back.

Bertha Wise Has Pneumonia.

Bertha Wise, the negro woman who was shot Monday morning, was suffering very little yesterday on account of the pistol-shot wound, but her physician says she has a case of pneumonia. This renders her case more complicated, but it is believed that with proper care and treatment, she will recover.

INDIAN HUMOR.

Old Geronimo would scarcely be suspected of humor, and yet on one occasion the medicine chief gave me a sample of it. It was his custom in the later years of his life to watch for the coming of white visitors to Fort Sill or to Miss Addisson's mission, near by, in order that he might sell beaded canes to them. From the proceeds he was accustomed to purchase certain creature comforts not supplied by the government, but on which he relied for support in his old age. One day I was talking to him about them. He said: "They make me walk straight—the tobacco and the mescal. Yes, they put strength into me, and I lean on them."

Then to those beady eyes that so often had flared with hatred and cruelty came a gleam of humor. He continued: "I sell these canes, and the white man buys them—both for one price. They help us to walk."—Southern Workman.

Crushing Romance.

"It seems to me," said Battersby, "that we are knocking nearly all the romance and imagination out of life when we commercialize marriage, for that's about what we are doing. I like the good old way of courting, the way that was the classy thing when knights were bold. I like the idea of galloping across the drawbridge and snatching up the girl of my heart and putting her on the saddle before me and galloping away like mad. Wouldn't that suit you?"

"No, it wouldn't," replied the other man. "The girl of my heart weighs 200 pounds."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

In the Vote Mart.

A member of a certain city council had invested in a ready made suit of clothes and forgot to remove the price tag. A colleague called his attention to it, and he displayed signs of much mental disquietude.

"Were you afraid people would know what you paid?" inquired the colleague.

"No," was the reply. "I was afraid some of these lobbyists would think it is what I charge."—Washington Star.

Might Work.

"Why does a player pick up two bats before he goes to the plate?"

"It makes one bat seem lighter. Don't you see?"

"I see. It's a fine scheme. I think I'll try it on the biscuits at our boarding house."—Pittsburg Post.

The Only One Lacking.

"Why are you so sure there is no such thing as a fourth dimension?"

"Because," replied the discouraged fat man, "if there was I'd have it."—Ladies' Home Journal.

Wigg—"I wonder why Bjones is so unsuccessful. He always sees an opportunity." Wagg—"Yes, but he waits for some other fellow to seize it."

28 YEARS WITH ONE FIRM

Mr. Jack Lee, of Winston-Salem, can boast of that length of service with the Fries Manufacturing Co. and says "I have suffered with asthma all that time, having done my sleeping half of that time sitting up. Savadine gives me relief, lets me lie down and sleep all night. I can't say too much for it. Use my name in papers or any way you wish."

Dear Sir:

I acknowledge receipt of your check for $500.00 in payment of my stock in the Second Series of your Association. Please accept my thanks for the same. When I took this stock I had in mind encouraging your Association, but now as the money is coming back I feel that I have saved just this much that I would otherwise probably have spent, and my dues have now been returned with about 6 per cent. interest thereon.

Very truly yours,

IT IS ALL RIGHT

to ask a friend to do you a favor when it is impossible to secure the favor in any other way. But why ask a friend to go on your bond as surely when the Greensboro Loan & Trust Company can give better security than an individual at no extra cost for its faithful discharge of its duty as a trustee or executor or administrator. Why should you sign a bond by which your "heirs, executors, administrators and assigns are held and firmly bound" to pay for the default of others; perhaps after your death, every dollar of your estate? Tell your friend not to burden you with such a grave responsibility. Let the Greensboro Loan & Trust Company become responsible.

Talk this over with us—it will assist you.

Well-To-Do-People.

Perhaps you know some persons who are well-to-do. They have a little extra money in the bank and are never embarrassed by a failure in crops or other financial disaster. They are a little ahead in money matters and can live with a certain assurance that an unexpected loss will not force them to go into debt or suffer some privation. But, remember that these well-to-do people began saving small amounts.
